Stephanie Agnew

Assistant Director

Parents Place on the Peninsula

Stephanie is the Assistant Director of Parents Place with JFCS' Center for Children and Youth, where she has worked since 2002. She has an extensive background in Early Childhood Education with 20 years of teaching experience in Palo Alto area schools. Stephanie was trained at Bing Nursery School while getting her degree at Stanford and has taught all preschool age groups. Prior to joining the team at Parents Place, Stephanie owned her own small preschool in Palo Alto for five years before working as a parent educator and director of the Parent Education Program at The Children's Health Council.

Stephanie's specialties include young child behavior management, Kindergarten readiness, school choices and preschool teacher training and support. She teaches parenting classes, gives seminars, leads teacher training workshops, observes children at home and at school, and offers individual parents information and support about a wide array of parenting issues.

Do you need help finding the best elementary school for your child and family?

Meet Our Expert Parenting Coaches

If you have questions about your child's development, interactions, or behavior, the Center for Children and Youth can help. Our experienced parent coaches provide tools, resources, and support to guide you through any parenting challenge. We offer individual parent and family consultations, virtually or in-person, and can also observe children at school or home to gain further understanding.

Elisa Magidoff, MA
Director of Parents Place

Elisa has been working in the field of early child care and education since 2000. Her experience includes executive management of a nonprofit serving children in preschool through elementary, directing inclusive preschools and private programs, as well as teaching in early childhood settings. From 2009 – 2022, Elisa taught Early Childhood and Adolescent Development courses in higher education at California Community and State Colleges. Elisa enjoys walking near the ocean and cooking.

Stephanie Agnew, BA
Assistant Director, Parents Place; Parent Coach

Stephanie has been working with early childhood educators and parents for over 30 years. Her specialties include kindergarten readiness, preschool and elementary school choice, temperament, positive discipline, preschool behavioral observations and teacher support. She coordinates all the Parents Place programs in The Center for Children and Youth.

Diana Blank, LCSW, Parent Coach

Diana is a therapist and social worker who specializes in supporting families going through separation and/or divorce, as well as families who have children with disabilities. She teaches workshops about how to recognize the signs of Autism, in addition to facilitating our bi-weekly Single Parent Support Group.

Karen Friedland-Brown, MA, Parent Coach

A child development specialist and longtime parent educator, Karen specializes in temperament, discipline and limit setting, school issues, parenting as a couple, co-parenting through divorce, raising an only child, and parenting boys.

Lori Longo, MA, Parent Coach

A parent educator for more than two decades, Lori specializes in child development, discipline, separation issues, toileting, and twin challenges. Lori has seven grandchildren, and provides consultations for grandparents, in addition to leading grandparenting discussion groups. She was a teacher and director at parent cooperative preschools for more than 20 years.

Lauren Meltzer, MA, CLC, Parent Coach

Lauren is the mother of a 14-year-old 2E daughter. She is the co-founder of Parent Resource Advisors, a consulting firm supporting parents in raising neurodiverse or gender expansive children, and Loving Your Highly Sensitive Child, an educational resource for parents and teachers. She is a certified Life Coach and received a master's degree in Education from Harvard University.

Sheila Norman, MA, Parent Coach

Sheila Norman, MA is adjunct faculty at City College of San Francisco and a lecturer for San Francisco State University. Prior to working in higher education, Sheila owned and directed a private San Francisco preschool for 18 years, supporting many children asked to leave other programs. Mrs. Norman is a certified trainer for the Program for Infant Toddler Care (PITC). She is a private consultant, trainer, and mentor. Sheila is the mother of three children and has 3 grandchildren.

Linden Plumley, Parent Coach/Child Sleep Consultant

Linden specializes in helping families establish healthy sleep habits for their children. Linden works with infants and toddlers, as well as families with multiples, and is skilled at understanding her clients' unique situation and troubleshooting ancillary issues that may impact a child's sleep. She is a mom to two boys, ages 2 and 5.

Rachel Sklar, MSW, Parent Coach

Rachel customizes each consultation to the individual strengths and challenges of every family. She is a PCI-Certified Parent Coach, supporting parents on a wide range of topics including: discipline, sibling rivalry, raising boys, mindful parenting, and healthy use of technology.

Elisabeth Stitt, BA, Parent Coach

After 25 years of teaching, Elisabeth switched to parenting coaching and parent education, in order to help parents who felt isolated and overwhelmed. Her book, Parenting as a Second Language, addresses the importance of developing clear expectations, being consistent, and approaching big feelings with empathy.

Jenny Ward, MFA, Parent Coach

Jenny is a wellness coach, specializing in parenting and play, mindfulness and meditation, high conflict separation and divorce, and a licensed yoga educator with a focus on yoga therapy and family yoga. She also wrote the books Who Said So? 101 Ways to Play and Who Said So? About Parenting.
